BNY ADSs Deposit and Offering Restrictions Disclosure Notice

Canadian Companies

American Depositary Shares ("ADSs") delivered by The Bank of New York Mellon (BNY) representing shares of a Canadian company have been registered for offering and sale only in the United States of America. They are not registered or qualified for distribution in Canada or in any other jurisdiction outside the United States and may not be offered or sold to or for the account or benefit of any person located in Canada or any other jurisdiction where such offering or sale is restricted or prohibited by law or any registration, qualification, filing or approval with or by any securities regulatory authority would be required.

Accordingly, no Canadian shares may be deposited in an ADS facility for the purpose of delivering ADSs to or for the account or benefit of any person in Canada. However, Canadian shareholders may deposit shares in an ADS facility, provided the ADSs to be issued will not be delivered to or for the account or benefit of the depositor or any other person located in Canada. Resales of outstanding ADSs representing Canadian shares to persons located in Canada may be permitted in certain circumstances under applicable Canadian securities laws including where the ADSs were originally issued in compliance with these offering restrictions and where the seller is not a control person (as defined in Canadian securities laws) with respect to the Company.

Prospective purchasers, brokers, and depositing parties are solely responsible for ensuring that no offer, issuance, distribution or sale of ADSs is made to persons located in Canada or in contravention of applicable legal and regulatory restrictions, including the above restrictions. By participating in an issuance of ADSs, each person shall be deemed to represent and warrant that the deposit is not being made for the purpose of delivering ADSs, directly or indirectly, to or for the account or benefit of, any person located in Canada. This disclosure is not intended to provide legal advice and each party noted above should consult its own legal counsel to ensure compliance with applicable law.
